

International Student Guide

Welcome to the École Centrale de Lyon !

Centrale Lyon is one of France's top engineering schools. Since its foundation in 1857 it has been dedicated to innovation, entrepreneurship, internationalism and social responsibility, with a mission to educate and train engineers and researchers, providing them with the skills that will be needed to solve the scientific challenges of tomorrow, in an international context. The school offers a general degree programme in engineering science, nourished by high-level research and a close relationship with the business world, which equips its graduates to manage complex multidisciplinary projects.

Financial support

Scholarships

There are many scholarship offers that can help you finance your stay. However, applications for this must be submitted before your arrival. Please contact your Home University to have more information on this.

Part-time jobs

To finance your studies, you can work part-time, up to 964 hours per year, i.e. 60% of the legal annual working time in France (except for certain visa requirements). There are also a limited number of job opportunities on campus.

Housing subsidies

As a student at the École Centrale de Lyon, you are entitled to a housing allowance. This amount depends on your income. You can simulate the procedure on the CAF'S website («Caisse des Allocations Familiales») and check how much you may approximately receive.

Paid internship

During your training, you may be required to complete an internship. This can be paid under certain conditions, and can therefore bring you additional financial support. The placement must be in France and last at least two months. The hourly rate is at least €4.05 per hour of internship, i.e. about €567 for a full month at 7 hours per day. Further details can be found on the Service Public website.

Insurances

Health and travel insurance

If you do not have the European Health Insurance Card (CEAM) when you arrive in France, or the RAMQ form (for Quebec), you must register on the Caisse Primaire d'Assurance Maladie \(CPAM\) website for your health insurance coverage.

Your medical expenses will not be covered until you are registered with the CPAM. We therefore recommend you to have a travel health insurance before your departure to cover the first month of your stay.

Please note that the CPAM reimburses approximately 70% of your expenses (within the limit of the regulated rates). It is therefore strongly advised to subscribe to an additional «mutuelle» for additional coverage (especially in the case of a hospitalisation). Some insurance companies offer good rates for students.

«Responsabilité civile» insurance

The «responsabilité civile» insurance is mandatory for all students and is used to cover physical and material damage caused to third parties. This insurance can be included in other insurances (such as the one you subscribe to for your accommodation which is also compulsory). It is therefore important for you to look into this in detail in order to avoid unnecessary additional costs.

Repatriation insurance

We advise you to take out repatriation insurance for the duration of your stay before your arrival in France. Some bank cards include repatriation insurance, check this with your bank before you leave.

Obtain your VISA

If you are not a citizen of the European Union, Monaco, Andorra or Switzerland, you will need to apply for a student visa.

You will probably obtain a VLS-TS visa, which is valid 4 to 12 months, depending on the duration of your stay. This visa can be renewed if the duration of your stay is longer (for Double Degree Students for example).

Within three months of your arrival, your student visa must be validated. You will be accompanied by the International Relations Department, and the full procedure will be explained on your arrival.

What budget for your arrival?

Prepare a budget before you arrive as several expenses will be incurred on your arrival. Ideally, in order to be comfortable, we suggest you plan a budget of around 2000 euros.

Rent and deposit

If you are staying in the student halls of residence. On your arrival, you will have to pay the rent for the month of August as well as the full rent for the month of September. A deposit of 500 euros will also be requested. In total, this will cost you between 1000 and 1500 euros depending on the halls of residence you've chosen.

Memberships

The BDE (Bureau Des Étèves), will offer you several memberships at the beginning of the year:

- Membership to the AECL (Association des Étèves de l'École Centrale de Lyon), as well as to the USECL (Union Sportive de l'École Centrale de Lyon), enabling you to be part of an association (see page 7-8).

- It is strongly recommended to also join the «pack poly du SDeC» (Service Des Cours) « association. By joining, you will have access to several printing facilities such as your lecture notes sent to you or your internship report bound or even having the possibility to print A0 format posters.

- The WEI (Weekend d'intégration): This is up to you to decide whether you wish to take part in this weekend or not. It is the occasion to meet the other students and make new friends. The cost is about 130 euros.

In total, on top of your rent and deposit, you will pay around 540 euros if you decide to sign up to these different associations.

Furthermore, the associations also sell goodies if you wish to treat yourself!

What budget for your daily life?

During your stay with us, you will face a multitude of expenses for food, for going out, for your leisure... The etudier-en-france.net site gives an average estimate of the cost of living in France, on housing, bills, food, leisure... do not hesitate to consult it.

Welcome week

A welcome week is organised at the end of August for our international students. You will arrive one week before all the French students in order to facilitate your installation and get your administrative procedures out the way.

If you pick a room on campus, the Bureau International will interview you on your arrival to find out who you are and what you like, in order to assign you a room in the building and on the floor that suits you best.

Many activities are organized during this week to help you integrate and meet other students !
Discover the Bureau International's Facebook page.
